This Week

What another fantastic week we have had! The children have enjoyed our fun early work activities, this week we went into the computer suite. In English we have started to write a persuasive letter to invite the author David Walliams into our school, the children are really enjoying this unit. In Maths, we have been learning all about fractions. Year 3 have focused on recognising fractions and started to explore fractions of amounts. While Year 4 children have been adding and subtracting fractions. In history, we became experimental archaeologists to find out how Stone Henge was built. During our Art lessons, children have researched the artist Michaelangelo and have sketched the Leaning Tower of Pisa—their sketches are amazing, we have some wonderful artists in our classes.
