This Week

What a great start to the new term we have had! This week in English children have impressed us with their independent writing of a persuasive letter to Marcus Rashford. In Maths, Year 3 have learnt how to add and subtract fractions while Year 4 children have been finding fractions of amounts. In Science this week, we looked at different clues to identify the different animals and their diet. We have enjoyed learning about the artist Roy Lichtenstein and created some wonderful pop art for our art competition. In Geography we started a new topic about where our food comes from and discussed the impact our food choices have on the environment. Everyone has settled back into school routines really well.

Spanish sound of the week

Sounds like "ny" sound in the English word "canyon" or the "ni" in "onion"
It requires pressing the tongue flat against the roof of the mouth.

Growth Mindset Quote: I am loved just the way I am.
